Docket No. 2006-015

Cause No. 176-04

This cause initially came on for hearing before the Board of Oil, Gas and Mining (the "Board") on August 23, 2006, at which time legal arguments were heard concerning the Board's authority to grant the requested relief. The Board took the legal questions addressed at the August hearing under advisement. The evidentiary portion of this cause came on for hearing on December 6, 2006, at 9:00 a.m., in the Hearing Room of the Utah Department of Natural Resources at 1594 West North Temple Street, in Salt Lake City, Utah.

The following Board members were present and participated in the December hearing: Chairman J. James Peacock, Kent R. Petersen, Robert J. Bayer; Douglas E. Johnson; Samuel C.

Quigley; Jake Y. Harouny and Jean Semborski. John R. Baza, Director of the Division of Oil, Gas and Mining (the "Division"), and Gil Hunt, the Division's Associate Director for Oil and Gas, were present and participated in the hearing.

Phillip Wm. Lear, of Lear and Lear, LLP, appeared as counsel for Petitioner Petro-Hunt, LLC ("Petro-Hunt"). Edward Joseph Sterne, Senior Geologist, Louis Chirinos, Senior Reservoir Engineer, William Joseph Lucas, Senior Landman, and John Robert Wunderlick, Petroleum Landman, all of Petro-Hunt, appeared as witnesses for Petitioner. Janice L. Brown, of Lear and Lear, LLP, also appeared and testified for the Petitioner.

Thomas Clawson of VanCott, Bagley, Cornwall & McCarthy, and Greg Colton of Pioneer Oil and Gas ("Pioneer"), appeared as counsel for Pioneer and International Petroleum, LLC ("International").

Michael S. Johnson, Assistant Attorney General, represented the Board; and Steven F. Alder, Assistant Attorney General, represented the Division.

The Board took comments from the public. Jerry and Joyce Edwards, who represented that they were owners of mineral interests within the subject lands, commented on the petition.

NOW THEREFORE, the Board, having fully considered the arguments made, testimony adduced and the exhibits received at the above-referenced hearings, being fully advised, and good cause appearing, hereby makes and enters the following Findings of Fact, Conclusions of Law, and Order:

FINDINGS OF FACT

1. Notices of the time, place, and purpose of the August 23, 2006 and December 6, 2006 hearings were mailed to all interested parties, and were duly published in newspapers of general circulation pursuant to the requirements of Utah Administrative Code (“U.A.C.”) Rule R641-106-100. Copies of the Request for Agency Action were likewise mailed to all interested parties pursuant to U.A.C. Rule R641-104-135. A number of Responses opposing the Request for Agency Action were received. Responses were filed by Burnett Oil Co., Inc. (“Burnett”), Tecovas Partners III, L.P. (“Tecovas”), as well as by Pioneer and International. The responses of Pioneer and International were withdrawn prior to the December 6, 2006 hearing. The interests of Burnett and Tecovas in the subject lands were acquired by Petro-Hunt prior to the hearing, thereby eliminating those companies as parties to the present case. Written responses were also filed by the Corporation of the Presiding Bishop of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, Robert Wright, Trent Alvey and Karen Hackelman Dahlen. A letter supporting the Request For Agency Action was received from Gordon Peterson.

2. Petro-Hunt seeks the establishment of a 20,936.42-acre “Wales Exploratory Unit” embracing hundreds of tracts of private land, and a small percentage of state land, in Sanpete County, Utah. The proposed unit would unitize all oil, gas and associated hydrocarbons and would cover all depths and formations.

3. Petro-Hunt is the lessee under numerous leases affecting the subject lands, and together with its partners, controls more than 96% of the acreage within the proposed unit. The proposed Unit Agreement and Unit Operating Agreement have been approved by more than 70% of the cost-bearing and non-cost bearing interests within the proposed unit area. Because some of the owners within the proposed unit have not consented to the unit, the requested unit would be compulsory as to those parties.

4. Petro-Hunt contends that the subject lands overlie an anticline structure involving the Navajo Sandstone within the Central Utah Overthrust Belt similar to that found at the productive Covenant Field some 45 miles to the south of the proposed unit. Petro-Hunt further contends that this structure contains an accumulation of hydrocarbons, that it will be productive of oil and gas, and that it will share many of the characteristics of the Covenant Field.

5. Petro-Hunt presented geologic evidence in support of its contention that a subsurface structure capable of trapping hydrocarbons was present on the subject lands. This evidence primarily took the form of seismic studies of different vintages, together with some well control from nonproductive prior wells in the vicinity. The Board found Petro-Hunt's presentation persuasive as to the likely existence of subsurface structures potentially capable of trapping accumulations of hydrocarbons.

6. No evidence was adduced at the hearing to establish that production from the target Navajo formation or other formations sought to be unitized had been achieved on or near the subject lands. Petro-Hunt's allegation regarding the existence of a "pool" as defined in Utah Code Ann. §40-6-2(18) within the proposed unit area was therefore not based upon direct evidence of production or the demonstrated presence of hydrocarbons in amounts that might suggest that economic accumulations of oil or gas exist in the area. Instead, the asserted existence of a pool was based upon inferences drawn from the above-referenced seismic studies and upon assumptions regarding the subject lands being highly analogous to the Covenant Field and other more distant fields.

7. Among the characteristics of the proposed unit area which are assumed by Petro-Hunt to be analogous to the Covenant Field are the presence of hydrocarbons, porosity, permeability, reservoir pressure, reservoir temperature, water saturation, fluid properties, and drive mechanisms. These assumptions form the basis of many of Petro-Hunt's calculations and projections regarding the behavior of the alleged pool underlying the subject lands.

8. Petro-Hunt's witnesses conceded that given the lack of drilling on the subject lands, it has made no direct measurements of reservoir characteristics within the proposed unit to confirm that the assumptions it has made are correct or that the Covenant Field is indeed a useful analog. Petro-Hunt's witnesses also testified that although permeability and porosity are assumed to be similar to the Covenant Field, those parameters are often affected by depth of burial of the target formations, and the target formations are encountered on the subject lands at significantly greater depths than at the Covenant Field. Petro-Hunt's witnesses further acknowledged that the seismic data in Petro-Hunt's possession could not define porosity or confirm the presence of hydrocarbons on the subject lands.

9. Based on the uncertainties discussed above, Petro-Hunt conceded at the hearing that there is presently no direct evidence of a pool beneath the subject lands. Petro-Hunt went no further than to claim it had reason to believe that a pool could exist, and to opine that there was a 20-30% probability that economic accumulations of hydrocarbons would be discovered within the proposed unit area.

10. Petro-Hunt's evidentiary presentation focused almost exclusively on the primary target of the Navajo Sandstone and, to a lesser degree, upon secondary targets in the overlying Jurassic Twin Creek and deeper Permian Kaibab formations which Petro-Hunt characterized as "potential" reservoirs. Despite this, Petro-Hunt asks the Board to find that "all formations" and depths constitute a pool or pools. The Board finds that the depths and formations sought to be unitized are overly broad based upon the evidence presented.

11. The Division, at the conclusion of the evidence, expressed its concern that the existence of a pool had not been adequately established.

12. Although geologic inferences (even in the absence of production from the subject lands) are relevant to, and may be used to support a finding of a “pool” under appropriate circumstances, in the present case, where no production from the subject lands or even nearby lands has been demonstrated, where inferences are drawn from the limited evidence discussed above and from distant, uncertain analogs, and where the Petitioner has acknowledged that no direct evidence of a pool exists, the Board finds that no pool or pools have been demonstrated. This is especially true where the alleged pool or pools are claimed to encompasses all possible depths and formations.

13. The Board believes that Petro-Hunt used its best efforts to analyze the available data and found Petro-Hunt’s presentation at the hearing to be detailed and clear. While that presentation persuades the Board that the subject lands and formations are a promising place to explore for oil and gas, as noted above, the Board does not find that the evidence presented supports a finding that any pool or pools as defined in Utah Code Ann. §40-6-2(18) exist on the subject lands.

14. Petro-Hunt contends, as required under Utah Code Ann. §40-6-8(2)(b), that the value of the estimated additional recovery of oil or gas resulting from the proposed unit operations will substantially exceed the cost of those operations. Petro-Hunt bases this contention primarily upon a comparison of what Petro-Hunt alleges would occur under the unitized and non-unitized scenarios it laid out at the hearing. Petro-Hunt alleges that under the unitized scenario, fewer wells would be drilled, less money would be expended, less reservoir energy would be dissipated, and greater ultimate production and net revenue would be realized.

15. The non-unitized development scenario presented by Petro-Hunt assumed the drilling of a well at every possible legal location (i.e., that the subject lands would be fully drilled up on a 40-acre density pattern). The Board finds the non-unitized scenario laid out by Petro-Hunt to be unrealistic and believes it unlikely that every legal location (especially those which Petro-Hunt characterizes as being of limited promise due to faulting or proximity to oil-water contact) would be drilled, even in the absence of a unit. Petro-Hunt's assumptions in this regard call into question its calculations concerning excessive rates of production, decreased economics, and loss of reservoir energy under its non-unitized scenario.

16. The Board further finds that Petro-Hunt's conclusions regarding the differing impacts upon reservoir pressure and ultimate recovery under the two scenarios are too dependent upon assumptions drawn from the alleged Covenant Field analog to be persuasive. In the absence of past production from the subject lands, and under the facts discussed above, too little is known about the actual characteristics of the alleged reservoir to permit a meaningful analysis of whether the value of the "additional" recovery (if any) which would result from the proposed unit operations would outweigh the costs of those operations. The Board recognizes that this finding need be made only upon the basis of estimates, but finds that the amount of firm information about reservoir conditions presented is insufficient to support a reasonably reliable estimate in this case.

17. In addition to its attempts to quantify the alleged increase in ultimate recovery under unit development as discussed above, Petro-Hunt cites the general benefits of early unitization in support of its argument that the proposed unit is “reasonably necessary” as required under Utah Code Ann. §40-6-8(2)(a). Although the Board finds many of the policy arguments in favor of early unitization persuasive, those policy arguments were not applied to the present case in a concrete and realistic enough way to support a finding that unitization is reasonably necessary here. When the extent, characteristics, and even the existence of a reservoir are unknown, it is impossible to ascertain what unit operations, if any, are reasonably necessary to its development.

18. The Board cannot find that the proposed unit is reasonably necessary to protect correlative rights, not only due to the lack of any demonstrated pool, but also in light of the admission by Petro-Hunt at the hearing that depending upon individual lease terms, the participating areas that are established, and the operator’s drilling schedule, the interests of some owners may be tied up for extended periods of time without the benefit of having proceeds from production allocated to them.

19. Ultimately the lack of data concerning the alleged pool, the high number of assumptions made about the characteristics of that pool based upon an uncertain analog, the uncertainty surrounding any increased recovery under unit development, and the potential adverse effects upon the correlative rights of some owners, prevent the Board from finding that the proposed unitization is reasonably necessary to further the purposes of Utah’s oil and gas conservation statute.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

20. Due and regular notice of the time, place, and purposes of the August 23, 2006 and December 6, 2006 hearings were given to all interested parties in the form and manner and within the time required by law and the rules and regulations of the Board. Due and regular notice of the filing of the Request for Agency Action was given to all interested parties in the form and manner and within the time required by law and the rules and regulations of the Board.

21. The Board has jurisdiction over the parties and the general subject matter of this Request for Agency Action pursuant to Chapter 6 of Title 40 of the Utah Code Annotated, and has the power and authority to make and promulgate the order herein set forth.

22. Because Utah's oil and gas conservation statute only authorizes the Board to make an order unitizing "one or more pools or parts of them," and for reasons discussed below, the Board concludes that the existence of a pool is a necessary prerequisite to unitization. Utah Code Ann. §40-6-8(1). Because the Board finds that no pool has been shown to exist, it cannot grant the relief requested in Petro-Hunt's petition.

23. In addition to its inability to demonstrate the existence of a pool, Petro-Hunt has not shown that the proposed unit operations are reasonably necessary for the three general purposes of Utah's conservation statute as required under Utah Code Ann. § 40-6-8(2)(a). Specifically, the Board concludes that:

A. The evidence presented regarding waste from dissipation of reservoir energy associated with non-unitized development was highly speculative and dependent upon unsupported assumptions based upon the uncertain Covenant Field analog. The Board concludes that the baseline scenario for non-unitized development presented by Petro-Hunt was unrealistic, and that lack of a realistic baseline for comparison prevents a conclusion that the proposed unit operations are reasonably necessary to prevent waste.

B. The same is true for evidence presented by Petro-Hunt purporting to show increased ultimate recovery of oil and gas from unitized versus non-unitized operations. Petitioner's calculations of the alleged increased recovery were again too dependent upon assumptions that key reservoir parameters would be similar to those found in fields located 45 or even 85 miles or more distant. The Board concludes that this evidence is too speculative to support a conclusion that the unit operations are reasonably necessary to obtain greater ultimate recovery from any pool that might exist.

C. Depending upon the terms of the individual leases, the participating areas established within the unit, and the operator's schedule of drilling operations, the interests of some owners may be tied up for extended periods of time without the benefit of any production being allocated to them. In light of this fact, and given the lack of demonstrated reasonable necessity of unitization to further the other statutory criteria, the Board cannot conclude that unitization at this stage is reasonably necessary for the protection of correlative rights.

24. The Board concludes that Petro-Hunt's request, because it comes prior to any common source of supply being demonstrated, is an ill fit to Utah's unitization statute and its specific requirements. For example, if no accumulation of hydrocarbons exists on the subject lands, then unitization is not necessary to prevent waste, increase ultimate recovery or protect correlative rights, and the costs of unit operations are certain to exceed the (nonexistent) "additional" recovery of oil and gas realized. This further supports the conclusion set forth in paragraph 22, above, that the existence of a pool or pools is a necessary prerequisite to unitization.

25. Because the above findings and conclusions dispose of this matter, the Board does not reach all of the legal questions initially raised by Petitioner and the former respondents. While the Board presently rules that the governing statute does not authorize unitization in the absence of any demonstrated pool, it does not go further and attempt to clarify how far the Board's authority to unitize may be extended beyond secondary and enhanced recovery operations and be applied to earlier phases of development. Although the respondents who urged a narrow reading of the Board's unitization authority have since withdrawn their opposition to the present petition, the Board remains cognizant of the questions raised by those respondents, and, to the extent those questions are not addressed herein, they may be addressed at a future date if necessary.

26. Because it cannot order the requested unitization without finding that a common source of supply exists, the Board reaches no conclusion regarding the sufficiency of Petitioner's proposed plan of unit operations as set forth in the proposed Unit Agreement and Unit Operating Agreement.

27. Petitioner has drawn the Board's attention to the work of oil and gas authorities who identify conservation benefits to be gained from early unitization. The Board concludes there are significant policy arguments in favor of early unitization, and further concludes that the potential need for legislative changes to Utah's oil and gas conservation act to better provide for early unitization should be studied. Such changes might clarify the legal issues raised by the parties in this case and provide more workable standards to be applied to future requests for early unitization.

ORDER

Based on the foregoing Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law, the Board, by unanimous vote, HEREBY ORDERS that:

A. Petro-Hunt's Request for Agency Action is denied.

B. The Board has considered and decided this matter as a formal adjudication, pursuant to the Utah Administrative Procedures Act, Utah Code Ann. §§ 63-46b-6 through -10, and the Rules of Practice and Procedure before the Board of Oil, Gas and Mining, Utah Admin. Code R641.

C. This Findings of Fact, Conclusions of Law, and Order ("Order") is based exclusively upon evidence of record in this proceeding or on facts officially noted, and constitutes the signed written order stating the Board's decision and the reasons for the decision, as required by the Utah Administrative Procedures Act, Utah Code Ann. § 63-46b-10, and the Rules of Practice and Procedure before the Board of Oil, Gas and Mining, Utah Admin. Code R641-109; and constitutes a final agency action as defined in the Utah Administrative Procedures Act and Board rules.

D. Notice of Right of Judicial Review by the Supreme Court of the State of Utah. As required by Utah Code Ann. §63-46b-10(e) to -10(g), the Board hereby notifies all parties to this proceeding that they have the right to seek judicial review of this Order by filing an appeal with the Supreme Court of the State of Utah within 30 days after the date this Order is entered. Utah Code Ann. § 63-46b-14(3)(a) and -16.

E. Notice of Right to Petition for Reconsideration. Utah Code Ann. § 63-46b-13. The Utah Administrative Procedures Act provides:

- (1) (a) Within 20 days after the date that an order is issued for which review by the agency or by a superior agency under Section 63-46b-12 is unavailable, and if the order would otherwise constitute final agency action, any party may file a written request for reconsideration with the agency, stating the specific grounds upon which relief is requested.
(b) Unless otherwise provided by statute, the filing of the request is not a prerequisite for seeking judicial review of the order.
- (2) The request for reconsideration shall be filed with the agency and one copy shall be sent by mail to each party by the person making the request.
- (3)(a) The agency head, or a person designated for that purpose, shall issue a written order granting the request or denying the request.
(b) If the agency head or the person designated for that purpose does not issue an order within 20 days after the filing of the request, the request for reconsideration shall be considered to be denied.

Utah Code Ann. § 63-46b-13.

The Rules of Practice and Procedure before the Board of Oil, Gas and Mining entitled “Rehearing and Modification of Existing Orders” state:

Any person affected by a final order or decision of the Board may file a petition for rehearing. Unless otherwise provided, a petition for rehearing must be filed no later than the 10th day of the month following the date of signing of the final order or decision for which the rehearing is sought. A copy of such petition will be served on each other party to the proceeding no later than the 15th day of that month.

Utah Admin. Code R641-110-100.

See Utah Administrative Code R641-110-200 for the required contents of a petition for rehearing. The Board hereby rules that should there be any conflict between the deadlines provided in the Utah Administrative Procedures Act and the Rules of Practice and Procedure before the Board of Oil, Gas and Mining, the later of the two deadlines shall be available to any party moving to rehear this matter. If the Board later denies a timely petition for rehearing, the aggrieved party may seek judicial review of the order by perfecting an appeal with the Utah Supreme Court within 30 days thereafter.

F. The Board retains exclusive and continuing jurisdiction of all matters covered by this Order and of all parties affected thereby; and specifically, the Board retains and reserves exclusive and continuing jurisdiction to make further orders as appropriate and authorized by statute and applicable regulations.

G. The Chairman's signature on a facsimile copy of this Order shall be deemed the equivalent of a signed original for all purposes.
